

CREW OF ZEPPELIN CALLED OUT FOR TEST FLIGHT

Today

MR. CHAPIRO'S DREAM
IN INDIA AND IN IOWA
SHALL THE IDLE HIBERNATE
CANADA, GOLD MOUNTAIN

By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright 1930 By King Features

Shooting of gangsters by gangsters continues, and would make an interesting added chapter for Kropotkin's "Mutual Aid as a Factor in Evolution."

Mutual destruction thins the gangster gangs, but the empty places soon are filled.

Benjamin Meyerson of the Shapiro gang boasted that he was "the best-dressed racketeer in Brown-sville." His next costume, not fashionable, will be supplied by an undertaker.

Joseph Frotall, another gangster, was killed near the spot on which Meyerson was placed. Both ex-convicts had been released or let out after crimes that should have made it impossible for them to do any harm for 20 years at least.

The chief of their gang, Shapiro,
recently killed, had peculiarities.
He was not afraid of bullets, and proved it. "But he would run, sobbing, if anybody pulled a knife
on him."

Our imagination and antecedents rule us. Our ancestors have seen knives and their work for so many hundreds of generations that we all dread them. Bullets are new and we hardly believe in them.

India's natives, under British law, must submit to modern methods of fighting the plague. They do not like this and fight against it, insisting on their right to swim in the "Holy Ganges" river, although corpses of those dead of the plague
may be floating on it.

Iowa's state law compels testing cattle to make sure that they are not tubercular; a good idea, since children get consumption from the milk of tubercular cows. But it seems a bad idea to some Iowa
farmers and it has been necessary to call out the militia to protect those who have been sent out to test the cattle.

Discovery of insulin, marvelous remedy for diabetes, becomes more important and marvelous in view of recent scientific suggestions.

A learned Briton says insulin would enable the unemployed to hibernate as the groundhog, bear
and other animals do in winter, curling up, taking in barely enough oxygen to keep the heart going and eating nothing. Interesting solution of the unemployment and dole problem, perhaps.

But the thought of 5,000,000 or 6-000,000 workers and their families curled up in the dark all winter is unpleasant.

England withdraws temporarily
from the gold standard and Canada,
her stalwart son, announces a Canadian dollar backed with gold the same as the United States dollar. You wonder how soon England's children, Canada and others, may be taking care of their ancient mother.
Not very soon, probably, for the power of intellect is in Britain, the most important of all wealth and indestructible.

No doubt of Canada's ability to carry out her gold standard program.

ACTION ON BEER PLAN PROPOSED AT LEGION MEET

Unemployment Commission Recommends Volstead Modification

THINKS MORE JOBS
WOULD BE PROVIDED

Five-Day Week, Immigration, Public Works
Are Discussed

(By Associated Press)

DETROIT, Sept. 23.—The American Legion unemployment commission today recommended that the legion national convention give consideration to modification of the prohibition act to legalize beer.

The recommendation made by the commission said:
"Your national employment commission feels it to be the duty of the commission to present the following to the attention of this convention:

Plan For Employment
"That when it shall properly
come before the convention, due consideration be given to modification of the Volstead act to legalize real beer, without conflict with the constitution of the United States in the interest of furnishing added employment. Your commission believes that hundreds of thousands of jobs may be created through such action."

The commission's declaration on beer was received with a cheering demonstration. It was read by Howard F. Savage, of Chicago, past national commander of the legion
and chairman of the unemployment commission.

The action was taken on the brief report on beer, which was presented separately from the main body of the commission's report. Chairman Savage pointed out that the commission was merely making its recommendation that the legion
give consideration to the beer proposal when it comes before the convention through regular channels.

Reviews Conference

The main body of the commission's report reviewed the work of the legion's Washington conference on unemployment and made recommendations that the convention give consideration to advocacy of further restriction of immigration and to the promotion of public works as a means of unemployment relief. The commission also recommended that consideration be given by employers and workers to the five day week and the six hour day.

The legion voted to hold its 1932
convention in Portland, Ore.

Methodist Leader Succumbs In Canton

CANTON, O., Sept. 23.—Rev. J. L.
Herron, 81, died in Aultman hospital here after several weeks' illness following a major operation.
He was the first pastor of the Duerbe Avenue Methodist Episcopal church here organized in 1895. He retired several years ago and was appointed pastor emeritus.

Rev. Herron was a colorful figure in Methodist church circles. He was a member of the Northeast Methodist conference since 1882, and was one of the oldest, if not the oldest, member.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday from the Duerbe church. Burial will be in Forest Hill cemetery. Rev. E. M. Lewis will have charge of the services.

The body will lie in state at the church Thursday from 10 a. m. until the time of the funeral.

Songs To Feature Revival Services

Songs by Evangelist and Mrs. C.
B. Corbett of Dayton will feature evangelistic services at the Church of the Nazarene tonight.

Corbett, speaking at services
Tuesday night, emphasized the need of determination in an individual's efforts towards success and explained the need of moral courage in all life's work.

Plans are being arranged for a Sunday school rally to be held in conjunction with revival services
on Sunday, October 4.

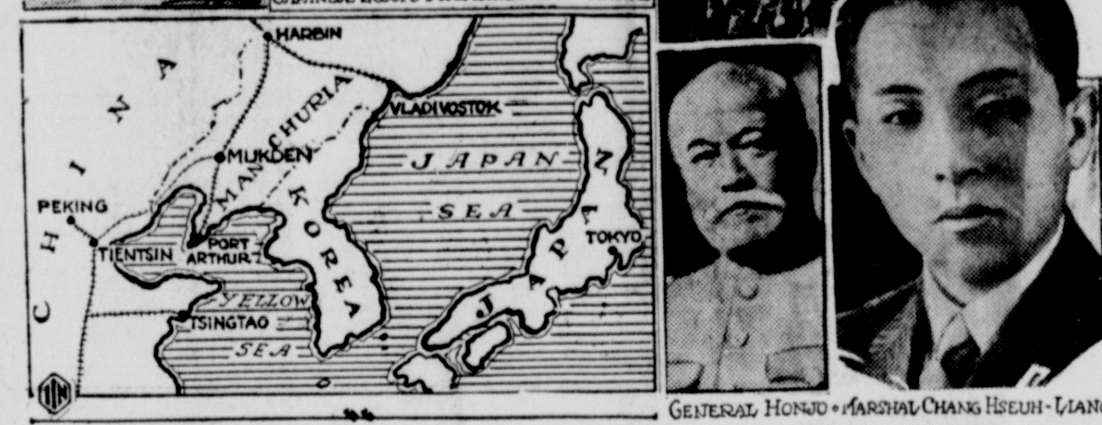

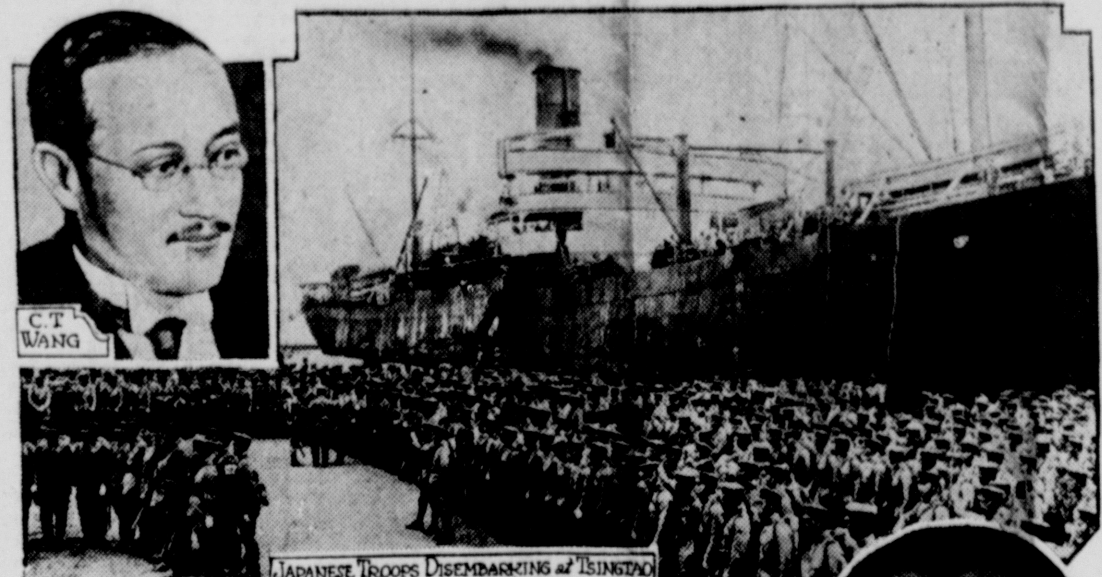

Will Ask Increase

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 23.—Instead of voluntarily accepting wage cuts suggested by Mgr. Joseph P.
Smith, vicar general of the Cleveland Catholic diocese and friend of labor, to stimulate building activities union workers affiliated with Cleveland Building Trades Council will seek an increase in wages and reduction in working hours, Harry McLaughlin, business representative of the council and president of Ohio
Federation of Labor announces.

Plan Rural Survey

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 23.—A survey of rural education problems in Ohio was recommended by more than 100 school superintendents who met here yesterday.
The state teachers association will be asked to finance the survey.

MANCHURIA 'WAR' LOOMS AS LEAGUE TEST

The invasion of Manchuria by Japanese troops under General Honjo, that was at first thought to be the start of another devastating war, may, by China's attitude in the matter, be dampened to the status of a mere local disorder. When the first clash came between the two countries, Marshal Chang Hsueh Liang, the youthful governor of Manchuria, ordered Chinese forces to retire peaceably and offer no resistance to the invaders. In this he was backed by Foreign Minister C. T. Wang, who made representations to the Japanese government, giving it the chance to withdraw and the opportunity to settle the affair with an apology. However, Japanese have continued to occupy town after town in the province of the Manchus and now the Chinese government is going to pin its faith in the League of Nations and the Kellogg peace pact. If the august body at Geneva decides that Japan has committed an act of war, it will be the duty of member nations of the League to sever trade and financial connections with her. Thus the efficacy of the League as a power for international peace will be tested.

SURPLUS FRUIT IS CANNED FOR HELP OF NEEDY

Red Cross Chapter Leads
In "Can-the-Surplus"
Campaign

Needy families in Salem and vicinity will be given aid through donations of canned fruits and vegetables during fall and winter months as a result of the "can-the-surplus" campaign now being conducted by the Salem chapter, American Red Cross, Mrs. Myra H. Woodruff, secretary, announced today.

Large quantities of surplus farm crops are being donated by granges. Many contributions have been and still are being received from private growers, the Red Cross secretary said, while Salem churches are also cooperating in the project. Jars and sugar used for canning the fruit and vegetables are being furnished by this chapter.

"Can Own Fruit"

Homes where lack of work has reduced family finances are being kept busy "canning their own" Mrs. Woodruff explained. The record, fruit and vegetable crop of the 1931 growing season is seen by the mercy chapter as a great boon to elimination of distress.

Starting the "can-the-surplus" campaign, Mrs. Woodruff explained, requests were filed with granges in the district for contributions of fruit and vegetables. Grange responses were made by the rural groups and every family listed by the mercy chapter as needing aid was given an opportunity of canning a supply of the fruits and vegetables.

In line with the Red Cross campaign to provide aid for as many persons as possible, arrangements were completed by Mrs. Woodruff whereby work has been granted to as many able-bodied men as possible. In the majority of cases they were given employment to enable them to pay back grocery bills and other delinquent accounts.

Work was supplied by the service department of the city, City hospital, Centennial park commission, the World War Memorial building and other organizations here. A wage of no less than 40 cents an hour was paid to the workers, jobs being distributed among them as much as possible.

There is serious need for children's clothing. Mrs. Woodruff is asking everyone possible to contribute many shoes, overcoats, suits and other apparel for juveniles as well.

HOOVER'S WAGE IDEALS STAND DESPITE CUTS

Reduction of Salaries Is Regretted by Administration

OFFICIAL COMMENT
NOT FORTHCOMING

White House, However,
Says President Still
for High Standards

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—President Hoover's anxiety to maintain the present standard of living was said at the White House today to be unaltered despite wage cuts
made by leading corporations yesterday.

The action of United States
Steel and Bethlehem Steel corporations and the General Motors corporation in reducing wages was regretted in administration quarters.

No official statement was forthcoming. It was said informally at the White House, however, that the president had been consistent in his desire to keep the standard of living up.

In the fall of 1929 the chief executive called to Washington the heads of practically every leading industry in the country and received from them assurances that wages would be maintained.

About three months ago Secretary Lamont said that often it had been necessary to cut wages in order to keep factories open.

Within recent weeks at the White House it was said the president's attitude on wage cuts had not been altered although President Hoover was aware that in many cases men had been laid off on account of the depression and then re-hired at a lower wage.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Announcement of impending wage cuts in steel, motor, rubber and copper industries was subject today to a variety of interpretations.

Organized labor proclaimed its resistance. Some financial writers attributed to unnamed business leaders the belief that the step would hasten a revival of business. Formal statements of corporations concerned merely stressed unsatisfactory present conditions or new standards of value.

United States Steel took the initiative and announced a 10 per cent
cut affecting 220,000 employees Oct. 1.
Bethlehem Steel followed suit. It will reduce wages 10 per cent Oct. 1 for 50,000 employees. Youngstown Sheet and Tube ordered a corresponding cut.

Hourly Workers Not Hit
The General Motors corporation announced a 10 per cent reduction for 25,000 salaried employees. Some 150,000 employed on an hourly wage basis will not be affected.

The United States Rubber company announced a five-day working schedule, starting Oct. 1. This will mean a reduction of about 9 per cent in wages to 25,000 employees.
The hourly scale will not be touched,
but no one will be given more than five days work.

The American Smelting and Refining company and the Utah Copper company announced 10 per cent
wage reductions, effective Oct. 1.

A forecast of resistance came from Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, after the announcement by United States Steel. He said:

"I can only express my great regret and profound disappointment
at the action of the United States Steel corporation. The disappointment is particularly justified because this action is in sharp contradiction with that of the same corporation some time ago in reducing dividends, but declining to cut wage scales. At that time the attitude of the United States Steel corporation was received with satisfaction by all who believed that any dislocation of wage schedules
would be a most disturbing factor, economically and socially.

Predicts Resistance
"All I can say is that the action of the United States Steel corporation will certainly not be helpful, regardless of the causes that have prompted it. I fear that this action may well encourage others to do likewise, and prove the result of even more serious perturbations than we have yet witnessed in the nation's economic life. A general policy of wage cuts holds out the danger of serious industrial conflicts, for it is inconceivable that the workers will take this blow
without resistance."

Washington advisers represented
President Hoover and his advisers
as hopeful that the action of U. S.
Steel would have no sweeping reflex among the employees of big business generally.

Months ago, Mr. Hoover sought to pledge the industrial captains against a lowering of wages. He has recognized, however that in these matters the government only can advise, and that decisions must be made by each corporation on the facts it individually is facing.

Will Drop Agents

BUSYRUS, O., Sept. 23.—Crawford county commissioners have teicipation of a revenue shortage.

CANTON, O., Sept. 23.—Leslie Cottrill, Mern and John Farwell, 28, today stood indicted for holdup of the Hartville bank Thursday.

Police said the man admitted

which was $2,000.

AKRON, O., Sept. 23.—The navy airship Akron was floated free in her giant dock at 1:30
p. m. as she was weighted off for probably the last time before taking the air.

AKRON, O., Sept. 23.—Officers and crew of the navy Zeppelin Akron this afternoon were standing by awaiting the final word that send them soaring into the air
aboard the world's greatest airship on its maiden flight or back to the drill duties of another day of waiting.

Admiral C. E. Day, president of the navy inspection board, at 11:25
a. m. issued this statement: "Conditions favorable for the first trial
flight of the Akron may materialize during the afternoon. Ship and personnel are being continued in stand-by status until satisfactory conditions for the flight are clearly defined as good, or until unsatisfactory conditions are defined."

BY OSCAR LEIDING,
Associated Press Aviation Editor

AKRON, O., Sept. 23.—The U. S.
S. Akron, largest airship in the world, today faced the beginning of her reign as queen of the skies.

Weather's three-day barrier against a majestic debut was seen last night by the naval board of inspection and survey to be lifted as the influence of a low pressure area moved away from Akron.

Second of America's home made dirigibles, she had only to prove on the maiden flight that she can fly; later tests will take her measure as the world's largest, fastest,
and strongest airship.

The massive dock, where she has stood stolidly pinned to a mobile mooring mast since soon after the christening ceremony August 8, teemed with life as last-minute preparations were hurried for the take-off at 3 o'clock.

Landing Crew Assembled
A landing crew of 250 men was assembled at 9 o'clock along the sleek silver-colored sides of the gigantic ship, each man taking his place along heavy rope lines to steady the bulk in the journey out of the dock.

The officers are enlisted men of the crew. Casting aside the fatigue clothes they have worn in the days of waiting, they were ordered on deck in uniform at 12:30 o'- clock.

A glittering cross-section of national notables—Admirals in gold braid, statesmen, and men who have had an active part in constructing the airship—was on hand,
many of them with envied places
within the ship.

Lieut. Commander Charles E.
Rosendahl, on whose shoulders skipped the responsibility for the $5,375,000 air queen, beamed approval that his charge was ready for her conquest.

She has been ready for many days, the loading of food being the last detail before she would fling her challenge to the skyways. Within her fabric envelope was a generous supply of gasoline and oil and 6,500,000 cubic feet of lifting gas, helium, more than contained in any monster man has built to ride in the atmosphere.

The maiden flight was scheduled to last from two to three hours,
depending upon weather conditions,
the ship starting from the ground
as a free balloon to reach the altitude of 500 or more feet before the idling motors begin to give thrust to eight wooden propellers of more than 16 feet diameter.

ASCENDANCY OF DOLLAR

Thousands of theater patrons have seen, within the last few months, news reels of the Prince of Wales at a South American trade exposition and have heard Stanley Baldwin explain why he favored tariff protection for British-made goods. Therein lies the story behind Great Britain's suspension of gold payments, or, as commonly described, its suspension of the gold standard.

The British foreign trade balance is "unfavorable". More goods are being brought in than are being sent out. British consumers are paying more for what they buy and getting less for what they sell and the difference in the foreign exchange market has to be made up by exporting British gold.

That is why the Prince of Wales traveled around in South America—to whom up trade so that British merchants can sell. That is why Mr. Baldwin favors a tariff—to equalize the differences in export and import that are making Britain's trade balance "unfavorable."

Accompanying the problem of the trade balance have been unequal distribution of the world's supply of gold, and movements in securities markets tending to lower the rating of British credit.

The most important immediate effect of all the factors operating in unison as far as the United States is concerned, has been to make the dollar the world's principal stable currency. It is highly improbable that Great Britain's pound sterling ever will hold its position again, even though the British trade balance may be restored by deflating the currency and stimulating the purchase of British goods and securities.

Like world peace, international exchange is a problem which the most able men of the time are unable to master. The ebb and flow of gold and silver always have caused surpluses and deficiencies which seem to occur independently of human intentions. Great Britain, at the moment, is on the short end of the gold supply. Tomorrow it may be France or the United States, both of which hold an unwieldy gold surplus at present.

IT MUST BE SO

The eagerness with which the most recent of the White House beer rumors has been picked up and broadcast demonstrates again the remarkable power of the human mind to "will" itself into a false state. Like desire for water causes the parched desert traveler to see flowing streams and sparkling fountains, a great thirst for beer has caused certain anti-prohibitionists to see a clear path of foaming steins filled with a beverage of interesting alcoholic potency.

The same will to believe what it is pleasant to believe has caused numbers of beer advocates to switch their attack from the moral to the economic quarter of the prohibition issue. In this again they are following a mirage. Prohibition was and is a moral issue to prohibitionists, and they will fight it out on nothing else. The inflexible congressional majority that stands between anti-prohibitionists and the oasis they have chartered in their imaginations will not be susceptible to the factual persuasion of political economy.

Midsummer temperatures are still the rule, though fall is here. High temperatures and beer rumors, other things being equal, may be expected to exist in direct proportions.

Human nature being what it is, it seems surprising that any more should be expected of it—Philadelphia Inquirer.

What Others Say

INDULGING A NATIONAL HABIT

This large nation's political scene would not be complete without Alfalfa Bill. The type is indigenous to our soil. It grows in the great open spaces. Its emotions and its thinking are primitive and picturesque. It is naively egotistic.

The type is always entertaining, and seldom dangerous. When the cheering subsides the common sense of the common people asserts itself. The plaudits are seldom transferable to the ballot box. The applause is not politically negotiable.

The Alfalfa Bills say the things that relieve the feelings of their demonstrative audiences but feelings having found relief, intelligence operates to keep the Alfalfa Bills on the stump and to put other leaders in responsible national offices. Oklahoma, Texas and other courageous commonwealths where the grass grows tall and the public sense of humor is irrefragable, occasionally elect an Alfalfa Bill as governor. Maintaining a public official of real comedy value is one way of keeping a hard-working population amused and getting the state continually into the news.

When, however, success in the dear old home state inspires the Alfalfa Bills to seek national leadership an amiable country smilingly listens, looks them over and restrains with reasonable bounds its natural love for comedy—Chicago News.

TRY THE SALEM NEWS

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Much of Broadway's cafe gaiety was transferred to trans-Atlantic liners, bolstering sagging receipts with weekend cruises this summer. Instead of speak-easy hooch in a hide-away humidity, passengers could have the real stuff along with the tang of fresh breezes.

While a number of such voyages were sedately respectable outings of parents with their children a large percentage were wild orgies. They offered an elegant opportunity for hennaced and peroxidized ladies and current sweet papas "to get away from it all."

The entertainment on the boats was in charge of a master of ceremony. Thus did a number of Broadway actors "at liberty" find temporary employment during a seasonal lull. It was their job to keep things whirling and according to reports they did with a whoop.

Some of the boats gave complimentary passage to cabaret, stage and radio performers to provide a celebrity tinge. There was one special jaunt that may get back-flare into first pages. Movies were taken of the high jinks for the news reels.

Two rather hilarious couples hiccupped out of the bar while cameras were at work. Not noticing the cameras but supposing it to be a revel on deck they joined in with a few monkey-shines, including a little drunken love making with wrestle holds.

The next week the wife of one of the gentlemen was at a movie when the news picture was shown. She thought it a case of double identity—her husband was on a fishing trip—and waited for the next show to see it again. Then dashed out and brought the wife of her husband's fishing companion.

With the cut in Atlantic rates, the week-end cruises are likely to be abandoned. The slash has already stimulated travel abroad, so much so vessels assigned to such trips will be called back into regular trade. They were high jinks while they lasted.

It is possible that in ten years New York's elevated railroad once a "blue chip" stock will be a memory. With the coming of light under the glowering "els," has come expansion and opulence. Especially is this pronounced on Sixth avenue from 53rd street to 59th. Six years ago the shabbiest stretch in midtown, it now bristles with fine hotels, theatres, apartments and smart shops.

The blackest splotch under the "els" was the brass district in Allen street. The sun had not shone there for years until the structure was removed. Allen street is already perking up and in a year or so will be lined with modern apartment houses, fronting a sweeping boulevard. This is the first definite step to remove the rumble, aimless and depressing spectacles known as New York slums.

Prowling in the neighborhood of Allen street, I came upon a group of gamins, smudgy and ragged, playing a sidewalk chalk game. Turning Gentleman Bountiful for the moment I inquired: "How would you boys like a nice big dish of ice cream?" A violently freckled red head teetered on one foot in his hop-scotching and replied, "What do we look like—beegans?"

Uptown later in telling of the experience I was informed this attitude is quite general in poorer districts of New York. Children are being taught to resent charitable overtures. My informant explained it was part of Communist propaganda that is more deep rooted in such areas than elsewhere in the city.

From a Park avenue monthly's account of a party: "And O. O. McIntyre, who was there with his wife, danced with a lot of beautiful young twins who seemed to think the gray-haired columnist was quite a beau."

Paul Whiteman and Vincent Lopez have negro valets who practically run their private lives. Each of the bandmen is inclined to stoutness and his diet is carefully supervised. Their valets know to whom they will talk on the phone and other intimate details of their lives. But what appeals to me most about the valets is their names. Paul's is Gus and Vincent's is Elmer.

O. O. (My Daddy) McIntyre.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland,
New York City

HOW LONG WILL YOU LIVE? It is often said that statistics are misleading and inaccurate. But it is certainly true that the health statistics compiled today are far more accurate than those of former times.

A great deal of valuable information can be gained by studying this material. Figures given by the life insurance companies are more than interesting. They reveal facts of great importance to the human race.

Of course these figures must be correctly interpreted, or they are indeed misleading. For example, according to the tables prepared, no one could hope to live beyond 96 years of age. Yet as a matter of fact, there are thousands who live beyond a hundred, in spite of the tradition that man's age is three score years and ten.

According to the life insurance tables the expectation of life at birth is fifty-eight years. Persons who live to 50 years of age have a further expectation of 20 years.

It is shown by these figures that since 1897 the average expectation of life has been increased 13 years. Of course, this gain has been made in the younger age periods. The reason for this is easily explained. The discovery of diphtheria antitoxin and similar treatment for scarlet fever has gone far to lower the death rate. With better care of measles, chicken pox and other childhood diseases, infant mortality has been greatly decreased.

In addition to the decrease in the common diseases of childhood, preventive measures have helped a lot. For instance, the removal of adenoids and diseased tonsils has greatly increased the health and span of life of the child.

Similar Studies of Adults. Investigations are being made concerning nutrition in its relation to the development of the body. This work, particularly in scurvy and rickets, has greatly lessened the sufferings of childhood.

There is no reason why similar studies in adult life cannot be made. They should be, because a study of the figures shows that premature deaths occur most frequently among the grown-ups.

This is due to the personal neglect of persons of this age. But whatever the reasons may be, chronic diseases of adults have actually increased. Such conditions as high blood pressure, kidney diseases, and heart disease still take a tremendous toll of the population. It is hoped that science will make such progress as to result in a marked reduction in such diseases.

Proper attention to diet, periodic health examinations, and early attention to every illness, will do much to extend life. It is hoped that modern progress will cause marked reduction in the deaths of persons past 40.

PLAYING WITH FIRE

BY WILLIAM McLEOD RAINE

"Must there be a man?"

Lee Reynolds is the owner of a ranch on which drought has almost ruined and starved the cattle. School friends from the east come as paying guests. Lee quarrels with her ranch foreman, Rance Brennan, partly on account of a new hand named Smith she hired without his permission and partly because she rejects his love suit. Brennan is discharged and swears revenge. Dunc Daggett, an old ranch helper, recognizes Smith as Jack Hadley, whose father owned a nearby mine and was murdered by outlaws. Hadley tells Daggett that he is searching for the murderer of his father.

INSTALMENT 7

SOUTHWARD BOUND
Dunc tilted back his chair and stroked a lean gray jaw rough as a field of wheat stubbles. "Looks like it's neck and neck or nothing, Miss Lee. Country's dry as a cork leg. The desert ain't been as baked as this since the Rincons were a hole in the ground. No use tellin' you that, though, after you've seen the bones of yore cows bleaching in the sun. So you done got the Costello ranch?"

"On a year's lease."

"Good. When do we drive?"

"Soon as we can round up. I'd like to start by Thursday." Lee turned to the other man in the room, a tall, thin young fellow with delicate shadows under his fine dark eyes. "I'm going to leave you in charge of the guest ranch, Hamilton. The season is nearly over. After next week nobody will be left but Mr. and Mrs. Ensworth. Kansas and Buck will take care of the remuda. You won't have much to do. Just keep things going and anticipate."

"I wouldn't like that," Doris admitted. "But I could stay at the hacienda and drive out sometimes to see you in the car."

"We'd be too busy to spend time amusing you. Then you'd be bored again."

"No, I won't. I'll promise not to be any trouble."

Every famed hill-climb record falls before free wheeling STUDEBAKER

No less than 37 famous hill and mountain-climb records have fallen before the Studebaker President Eight.

Pikes Peak, Uniontown Hill, Lookout Mountain, Mt. Baldy, Signal Mountain, head the list. The 100 per cent stock status of the car is certified by American Automobile Association officials, who personally checked, sealed and timed this Studebaker Champion.

Studebaker proves performance by deeds, not words. Studebaker's official A. A. A. record of 30,000 miles in 26,326 minutes stands unapproached after three years. Wouldn't you rather drive a Champion? Try it and see!

swer the correspondence.
Hamilton was a "lunger", exiled from the east for his health. Already he knew that the fine dry air of the arid southwest was going to make a new man of him.
"I'll try to keep things up as you want them," he said.

"You'll go with me, Dunc. We'll have with us Smith, Rusty, Stumpy, Jim Yell and Stan Ritter. That will make seven of us. Had I better pick up a couple more men in town?"

"I'd say we better have a couple more, or even three. We can use 'em on the roundup, too."

"All right. I'll get three. We start rounding up tomorrow. You'll be wagon boss, Dunc. I'll send Charley out to look for you. Better ride circle from Cottonwood Buttes first."

Busy days at the Lazy R followed. Riders combed the shale ridges and the water-gutted arroyos, dust caked on their unshaven faces. They followed flying two-year-olds among the cholla and the bignona. The crew was aroused before day-break. In the gray light of pre-dawn they swallowed hot coffee and ate biscuits and strips of steak that had been cooked in pots of boiling lard.

Hard work, long hours, little rest, but always much laughter, and joking, and rough horseplay. And day by day the herd grew as each drive brought in from prong and arroyo more Lazy R cattle.

By Wednesday night the country had been combed and a cattle wagon loaded with supplies. Saddles had been checked up and the remuda run into a pasture.

To Lee, making a list of first aid medical supplies, came Doris Silver with word that she wanted to go along.

"Thought you were going home," the mistress of the Lazy R said. "I did think I would, but I've had a letter from Harold and I've decided I don't want to go back just yet."

Lee looked at her in surprise. "Doesn't he want you?"

"Yes. That's just it."

Which cryptic remark Lee understood without explanation. Of course, if he didn't want you, a plane couldn't take you home too fast. You ought to be paddled, Doris.

"I'm bored here, dear. I think it would be fun to go to this hacienda. You told me yourself it was a delightful place."

Lee covered her annoyance under a manner of explanatory patience. "Did I tell you that we are all going to be very busy, fifteen or sixteen hours a day in the saddle, swallowing dust and baking in the heat? Did I mention that we'll live on rough food and bed on the ground, with ants, and bugs, and mosquitoes to make the nights?"

Doris reflected that with seven or eight men in the party, no matter how busy they were, she would have plenty of attention. Also, the Costellos were leaving a cook and a maid at the ranch.

With the forthright directness of one used to this lady's vagaries and not intrigued by them, Lee flung out a question. "Who is the man Doris? Rance has gone and isn't within reach to be made a

A galloping stage coach, modernized with short wave transmitting apparatus aboard, is to be used for a broadcast on Saturday.
The coach will travel over the grounds of the F. Ambrose Clarke estate on Long Island so that Clem McCarthy and John S. Young can give a first hand account of the running of the Meadowbrook cup steeplechase to a WEAF-NBC network. The coach is to be used because the grounds are sacred to the horse and no automobile apparatus is permitted there.
The receiving station will be located in a motor truck on the adjoining Morgan estate, the signals being fed from there to the chain.

An Open Letter To Salem Dance and Recreation Lovers

On Friday night of this week, my associates and I are opening the new RAINBOW GARDEN BALLROOM, located in the Pioneer Building. We have spared no expense in making this place the last word in a modern dance resort, for we felt that it was something that Salem wanted and something that would add to our city's social and civic development.

Our policy will be to operate a place of clean amusement, a place to which parents will feel proud to send their children, and a place which the parents and school teachers of Salem and vicinity will feel welcome to attend at all times.

We shall appreciate your suggestions as to how we can make Rainbow Gardens, the leading dance rendezvous in this section, the best obtainable in music at the lowest possible prices, and with your cooperation we feel that the Rainbow will be a success.

Yours very truly,
ARCH MORTON,
Managing Director,

The Stars Say —

For Thursday, Sept. 24

Although there is a forecast of much initiative and enterprise in the general trend of the affairs of the day, yet there are also signs of minor delays, setbacks and frustrations. Likewise there is a hint of menace through fraud, misrepresentation of subtle or underhand methods, which it would be well to be on guard against. Personally there may be pleasant and lively occurrences, although the moods may be introspective or serious.

Those whose birthday it is have the augury of a very active and lively year, with much initiative and aggressive attack of affairs in hand. These may be accompanied by some subtlety, intrigue or sinister attack, which it would be wise to be prepared for. Personal matters may be interesting, although the disposition may be a bit depressed or self-centered. A child born on this day should be active and aggressive, although it may have its moments of turning inward or to taken by the navy to guard against stormy seas secreting themselves aboard.

Guards were thrown around every entrance of the ship and high on the cat walk in the girders at the top of the dock more were stationed to prevent anyone from dropping to the ship from above.

The first duty of the flight crew, when each man took his station, was to search a particular area within.

Outside the dock, along the fence that had been thrown for a length of four miles about the airport, 250 extra guards took their stations to hold back spectators.

Ready to go, the Akron reached the crowning milestone in a history that reaches back to 1924 when the ill-fated Shenandoah had been completed and navy designers began preliminary work to keep themselves abreast of airship progress. The Shenandoah, America's first home made dirigible, crashed in a storm over Ohio just six years ago.

While the trial flights are in the hands of a few crew, the ship will belong to the builders, the Goodyear-Zeppelin Corp. until tests are completed and the navy has given its acceptance.

Ranking as the largest airship ever built, the Akron is 785 feet long, only nine feet longer than the Graf Zeppelin, but having a gas capacity 2,800,000 cubic feet greater because of the increased diameter. The maximum diameter is 132.9 feet, giving the Akron a shorter stockier appearance than the lead-pencil shape of other dirigibles.

Began Work In 1929

Actual construction work on the ship began in 1929 when Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the bureau of aeronautics, and distinguished passenger on the maiden flight, drove a golden rivet into the main section of the master ring. Besides her difference in appearance, the Akron incorporates a number of new features in dirigible construction, including the housing of motors within the envelope; provision of fore, aft, downward, and upward thrust of the propellers because the engines are reversible and the propellers can be rotated through a 90 degree angle; and an airplane hangar for five heavier-than-air craft.

One of the few military airships ever constructed, the Akron will not, however, be equipped with armament and planes until naval acceptance is given and the ship has been commissioned at the Lakehurst, N. J., base.

With a minimum amount of money available, the Red Cross is making much progress in relief work among the needy, so much, in fact that Mrs. Woodruff declares that "Salem's condition is not one-tenth as serious as in the majority of Ohio cities."

"As many men are being given employment as possible; we are granting aid to families in all ways and distress among poor and needy is being reduced to as low a point as possible. We only hope that we can continue our plans during fall and winter months."

All-Stars Oppose Mullins In Second Game Of Series Tonight

THE DAY In Sports

ATHLETICS AID YOUTH
BENEFIT SERIES PAYS

Considering the price of admission, 15 cents, three half pints of milk, Salem athletic fans are being granted unusual opportunities extraordinary for some outstanding entertainment in the softball series being played between the Salem All-Stars and the Mullins Foremen's club at Reilly athletic stadium. The games, unusual attractions in themselves, presenting the best the city has to offer in softball talent, should attract a gate of $150 before the series is closed.

A more worthy cause for playing a softball series can hardly be known than to have guinea pigs funds are raised to purchase milk for under-nourished children attending the city's public schools. Each person entering the gate, paying his three nickels, is buying three half pints of milk. Everyone, holders of Salem Athletic association memberships or not, should be willing to contribute.

When Salem schools opened this year the board of education was unable to maintain the annual appropriation for the milk fund. The practice of furnishing milk—a great benefit to many last year—to under weight children was to be abandoned. It was something that should not be.

A wrestling show was first suggested as the means of raising funds but plans were dropped after cost of obtaining exhibitors—and promoters wanted nothing but the best—was prohibitive. Then the city championship series last week was started.

Tonight may be fandum's last chance to help this cause, may be the last opportunity to see a softball game this year. They should not miss this chance to help out, should avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing a real game.

Salem is known throughout the state for its projects to aid its youth. The Memorial building, the Bulldog midge team, recreation activities for both boys and girls, are developing a generation of men and women outstanding in the city's history. Fans are a great factor in maintaining this standard.

Winning the championship of the Salem softball league was nothing compared to the gala banquet tendered to members of the Mullins Foremen's club team league officials and umpires by C. C. Gibson, president of the Mullins Manufacturing corporation, in Cleveland Tuesday night. An affair started by a banquet and climaxed by a theater party, it was one of the finest banquets ever held for a city athletic aggregation.

Twenty-one men were in the party, including Mayor J. M. Davidson, Joseph Reese and A. Earl Beardmore, the board of arbitration, Joe M. Kelley, Harry Vincent, Charles Stitt, George Early, Russell Smith, the team's manager, W. F. "Pat" Bolen, captain, and other "distinguished" guests. They all "heaved to" at Lotus Gardens, chewing to the strains of Austin Wiley's music, then laughed themselves sick at maniacal antics of Olsen and Johnson, celebrated "nuts" of the stage and screen.

The trip was made in three cars manned by Samuel Watkins, Robert Campbell and Joseph Michael Kelley.

The banquet was held in appreciation of the team's fine record during the 1931 mullishball campaign, winning the first half with ease and the city title by trouncing the United Cigars two straight. Then, to continue the fine showing, the team Monday swamped the all-stars, 7-4.

THIRD CONTEST MAY BE PLAYED, BOARD DECIDES

Foremen's Club Is Given Edge As Rivals Prepare For Benefit Clash

SAM WATKINS WILL CLASH WITH EARLY

Challengers May Switch Lineup to Strengthen Chances of Victory

Hoping to force the series into three games with a victory, the All-Star softball aggregation battles the Mullins Foremen's club, city championship team, for the second time under the floodlights of Reilly athletic stadium at 7:30 tonight.

May Play Thursday
If the all-stars succeed in their attempt to turn back the body-makers efforts will be made for a third contest to be played at the stadium Thursday night. Proceeds of the entire city will be donated to the Salem public school milk fund to provide milk for underprivileged and undernourished children.

Sam Watkins, ace of the Foremen's club slat force, will hurl for the league champions, opposing George Early, pitcher for the Salem Hardware last season. Both teams will present formidable lineups the Mullins in an effort to make it two straight and the all-stars in attempts to even up the series.

Plan Changes in Lineup
Greatly concerned over the poor showing of several playings in the first game Monday, when Mullins won a 7-4 decision, Joseph Reese and Earl Beardmore who selected the all-star aggregation, expect to make several changes in their lineup tonight. A strengthened team, both offensively and defensively is expected to oppose Watkins.

Martin Debnar, ill Monday and absent from the body-makers roster, may return to center field while Jimmy Fitzpatrick, who hurled for the champs in the opener, will be in the left garden with Les Older at right. The remainder of the team's lineup will remain intact with Rafferty catching, Pat Bolen at first, Merle Caldwell at second, Dorchek at short and Campbell at third. Arthur Borton will be playing roving short.

The all-stars lineup is a matter of uncertainty. Charlie Stitt, Jim Primm and Mike Schuller are the officials.

CLAYPOOL, Ind.—William Scott, 73, carefully placed his straw hat in a box and tucked it away at his home here until next year, when he expects to wear the hat for the 43rd season.

Caplan Wins Title In Salem Tourney

Max Caplan, 21-year-old southpaw golfer, won the annual President's cup tournament at the Salem Golf club, defeating Ralph Knepfer, the club's leading amateur, 2 and 1, in finals Tuesday.

Caplan, with a four-stroke handicap, took a one-stroke lead at the first hole and held it all the way. It was one of the outstanding matches played at the club all season. Caplan's name will be inscribed on the large trophy cup, emblematic of victory in the President's tournament, which was contributed by W. H. Dunn.

Light Squad Looms At Carnegie Tech

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 23.—If present plans of Judge Steffen, head football coach at Carnegie Tech, go through for his opening game with University of Buffalo at Buffalo Saturday the Tartan club that starts the contest will be one of the lightest and youngest Tech has sent into action in many seasons.

The largest back on the squad is Capt. Armontrout and the heaviest regular lineman is Don Fletcher, regular right tackle. However, illness may prevent their appearance against Buffalo, and their substitutes will be considerably lighter.

It appears, now that Steffen will start Ostrosky and Lewis at the ends, Croft and Foreman at the tackles, Koko and Drescher at the guards, Ducanis at center, Dugger at quarterback, Graveno and Kavel at the halfbacks and Pouncy at full back.

Boles Seeks 158th Grid Win Saturday

WOOSTER, Sept. 23.—If Wooster's 1931 gridiron representatives capture their inaugural tilt with Bluffton college here Sept. 26, they will bring Coach L. C. Boles his 158th victory out of 205 games since 1906.

Boles-coached teams, one at London high, six at Postoria high, two at East high in Cleveland and 15 at Wooster have won 157, lost 31 and have been tied 15 times since the veteran mentor first began training football teams at London, O.

Wooster college teams under Boles' teachings have won 91 games while losing 24 and tying 11.

LOUGHRAN WINS DECISION OVER OHIO BATTLER

Joe Sekyra Loses Close Verdict; Schaaf Will Meet Griffiths

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia heavyweight contender, has found his fifth straight victory the most difficult.

With easy victories over Max Baer, Ernie Schaaf, Tuffy Griffiths and Victorio, Campolo just behind him, Tommy found himself up against the Dayton, O. trial horse, Joe Sekyra, last night and just managed to jab out a close verdict on points in ten rounds.

Sekyra Leads Fight
Sekyra made an aggressive fight of it all the way and hurt Loughran badly in the seventh round with a heavy right to the jaw. Tommy finished first however, to win the ninth and tenth rounds and with them the decision. Loughran weighed 138; Sekyra, 177.

Charles Reislafer, stroller, the German heavyweight Dick Onken, in the second round of the ten round semi-final.

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—The answer to Ernie Schaaf's stirring knockout victory march through the American heavyweight ranks may be heard at the Chicago stadium tonight when he stacks his new reputation against Gerald Ambrose "Tuffy" Griffith in a 10-round battle.

Expect $40,000 Gate
Because of the Boston heavyweight's great sweep since last spring and Griffith's budding hopes to stop him, the battle had the complexion of one of the best fight naturals of the year. Chicago was so excited about the match that 15,000 were expected to pay a $40,000 gate to watch it.

Because of his seven straight knockout victories, Schaaf ruled a slight favorite.

Wesleyan Drafts Strict Grid Code

DELAWARE, Sept. 23.—"Ten Commandments" of football training have been drawn up by athletes at Ohio Wesleyan university here. Dancing, theater engagements, dinner parties and other social activities will be permitted only on Saturday and Sunday nights.

"Running around after coeds" was banned, as was smoking. All the athletes pledged to do their best work in classes.

PITT'S LINEUP UNCERTAIN FOR MIAMI BATTLE

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23.—With the opening game of the season with Miami university of Oxford, O., only a few days away, Coach Jock Sutherland of the University of Pittsburgh is still undecided as his lineup. The playing of several men hitherto relegated to second string berths has forced the Pitt coach to consider revamping his team.

Johnny Merideth, sophomore tackle from Fairmont, W. Va., is one of those who have upset the Pitt mentor's calculations. It was generally felt that Sutherland would take advantage of the number of seniors on his team and use as many as she could, thus benefiting from their experience.

Merideth has practically forced the Pitt coach to change his mind. In all probability he will be at left tackle Saturday, leaving the veteran Jess Quatse on the bench.

Play of Ralph Daugherty at center during the last week in camp almost clinched him the center job, but in the last few days Joe Turney has again challenged. Now Daugherty faces a stay on the bench.

Athletics Seek American League Mark in Wins; Take 105th Verdict as Foxx Stars

(By Associated Press)

With one game left today before the year's intersectional play in the major leagues ends, the last east-west series in the big circuits has merely proved what the earlier ones indicated. The eastern clubs of the American league and the western teams of the National, which have outshone their rivals from the other sections all year, wound up with the most thorough triumph yet.

Playing on the home grounds of the strongest sections, the American league's eastern half won 40 games and lost 14 while the westerners of the National league turned in 38 triumphs to 18 defeats.

Athletics Trim Tigers
When they closed their intersectional stand with an 8 to 6 victory over Detroit yesterday, the Athletics, once said to be weaker than the pennant winner of the past two seasons, accomplished a feat that no other Philadelphia club ever had done before. It was their 105th victory of the season. They still have five games left and possibility of tying the American league record of 110 victories.

George Earnshaw, who won his 21st game of the year, and Roy Mahaffey, gave the champions some wobbly pitching. Jimmy Foxx hit his 30th homer of the season with two on in the first inning.

Browns Blank Boston
Washington snatcher the opportunity offered by an open date in the New York schedule and took undisputed possession of second place in the standing with a 7 to 2 win over the Chicago White Sox. Boston's great spurt was checked in the last inning of a battle with St. Louis, but the Red Sox managed to hold onto fifth place. Leading 2-0 going into the ninth, Milt Gasten weakened, the Sox committed two errors and Wiley Moore, who was tossed into the breach, could not get the side out until five runs had crossed the plate to give the Browns a 5 to 2 victory.

The Pittsburgh Pirates beat out the Phillies 3 to 2 in 13 innings. Brooklyn closed the National league season so far as St. Louis is concerned by downing the champion Cardinals 6 to 3, in their final encounter.

In Talkie Role

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, comedy duo, who will appear in "Pardon Us", Friday and Saturday at the State theater.

THEATER Attractions

"ALEXANDER HAMILTON" with George Arliss in the title role plays today at the State theater.

The scenes are laid in Philadelphia at the critical period when Hamilton was seeking to establish the credit of the country, and when the choice of a site for the National Capitol was a burning question. Reynolds, a malcontent, plots Hamilton's ruin, and for that purpose sends his alluring wife, to him to ask for funds for return to her father, to escape the cruelty of her husband. The fiery champion of human rights becomes involved in an affair with the woman. The claim is made that he has used government funds—and Jefferson, Monroe and other great men of the day visit him to accuse him of the misdeed. The unexpected way in which he clears himself of the false charge—while confessing his human susceptibility to feminine wile is one of many brilliantly dramatic scenes.

Arliss gives the part of Hamilton a magnetic personality. Doris Kenyon, June Collyer and Ralf Harlowe give excellent support.

"SILENCE" starring Clive Brook is the feature today at the Grand theater. The opening scenes of "Silence" are tense and nerve-ringing. It begins when most pictures leave off, when its central character has but one hour to live. The story is fast-moving, flashing from climax to climax, plunging its audience from dismay to suspense, lifting it to the heights of hope and exultation with each surprising twist of its strange plot.

"Silence" is the life drama of a weak but likable crook, and Clive Brook makes the character glow. Peggy Shannon has an opportunity to display her talents as she plays two roles in the picture. Marjorie Rambeau, the popular stage and screen actress, is cast in a dashing, colorful role that motivates the early action.

Walker, of Cleveland, is president. Several hundred persons are expected to attend the convention.
